EMPLOYER PERSPECTIVE

HONEYWELL

“Early career talent from MBA programs such as Haslam are an instrumental part of our talent strategy. The ability to be agile, nimble, and resilient is critical for the talent that joins Honeywell. Haslam’s MBA program has done an exceptional job preparing students to contribute and add value quickly... and has adapted to prepare students with the latest skills, knowledge, and behaviors to thrive!”

JIM SCHWAB, BS, '97, MBA, '01,
VP of Human Resources for Commercial & Technology

Honeywell

THE PILOT COMPANY

“Data is at the center of all projects driving efficient decision-making capabilities. The MSBA program uniquely blends data science with complex business applications preparing its students to quickly add value when joining any department seeking to transform their current capabilities.”

AUSTIN WENDELL

Sr. Manager Data Strategy

The Pilot Company

MASTERS PROGRAMS

Haslam MBA

Haslam's full-time MBA develops leadership skills and broad business knowledge. Candidates may concentrate on business analytics, consulting, entrepreneurship and innovation, finance, or supply chain management. Dual degree programs with business analytics, engineering, law, and agricultural programs also are available.

MS in Business Analytics

MSBA students graduate with the ability to communicate and leverage data using both technical and soft skills. They work in teams using real data to solve a real problem for an industry partner during their capstone project.

Master of Accountancy

Haslam's Master of Accountancy has held a national reputation for decades, preparing students to pass the CPA exam, work in Big Four accounting firms, and navigate a wide range of business environments.

MS in Management & Human Resources

MS in Management and Human Resources graduates learn the skills to lead and manage people in the workplace through a combination of strategy, leadership development, and human resource tactics and knowledge.

MS in Supply Chain Management Tri-Continent

The Master in Global Supply Chain Management is taught both online and in a hybrid format that brings students together on three continents including North America, Europe, and Asia. These students receive an integrated perspective with economics, operations, logistics, risk management, leadership, and information technology courses taught by top-ranked faculty.

Online MS in Supply Chain Management

Supply chain is a fluid field in evolving industries. With the right training, you'll be able to solve complex supply chain problems and turn industry disruption to your organization's benefit. Haslam's MS in Supply Chain Management Online features an industry-oriented curriculum providing techniques and knowledge immediately applicable in the business world. With your MS in Supply Chain Management from Haslam you can stay ahead as supply chain continues to change.

Professional & Executive MBA Programs

The Professional and Executive MBA programs are designed for working professionals to unlock their leadership potential while maintaining career momentum. Candidates learn strategic-level business concepts and gain valuable insights into their own industries and organizations.

CAREER MANAGEMENT CENTER

Our Career Management Center offers virtual and campus-based options to engage with our top business talent.

Campus interviews and information sessions are highly encouraged as a way to meet our talent directly, fulfill hiring needs, and increase brand awareness on campus.

Job postings are welcomed and can be targeted to our current students and/or alumni.

Resumé books are available on-demand throughout the year.

The Annual Career Expo occurs virtually in late September for employers seeking our graduating students for full time employment and again in October as an on-site job fair for employers seeking summer internship candidates. Additional events are hosted during spring semester for employers with hiring needs at that time.
